

MELODY.
(Petersen / Simmonds. SOCAN)

She sailed into our harbor town
on a beautiful day
She carried cargo and it was bound
For an island so far away
Some may tell of their honesty
Others talk of their fame
the only words that she said to me
'Listen to the wind whisper my name'.

Melody where did you go when you left me here
Knowing we were so in love when we met
Often now I think of you and I want you near
So much easier to love than forget

She sailed into our harbor town on a beautiful day
She carried cargo and it was bound
For an island so far away.

Melody where did you go when you left me here
Knowing we were so in love when we met
Often now I think of you and I want you near
So much easier to love than forget

She sailed into our harbor town on a beautiful day
She carried cargo and it was bound
For an island so far away.

A boat sailed into a harbor town

On a beautiful day

It carried cargo and it was bound

For an island so far away

Some may tell of their honesty

Others talk of their fame

And the only thing that she ever said to me is:

Listen to the wind that whispers my name

Melody where did you go when you left me here

Knowing we were so in love when we met

Often when I think of you and I want you near
So much easier to love than forget

Some may tell of their honesty

Others talk of their fame

And the only question she ever asked of me is:

Will the winds of change remain the same ?

Standing here alone on this distant shore

Thinking of you and I and what we might

And I want to ask between just the two of us

There are nights that make me think of you more

Do you ever think of me as the day goes by

And does the night remind you of me much more

MELODY (Revised) Aug 4th

1.

A boat sailed into a harbour town
On a beautiful day
It carried cargo and anchored down
Trading pieces of gold
For somewhere to stay

2.

That night down at the local bar
A sailor buys drinks for free
And talks about a girl that he met for all his fortune
He can't remember her name

- B.
- i. Melody I think about you constantly
 - ii. And I wonder do you ever think of me
 - iii. How I wish that you were with me now
 - iii. Navigating this poor restless heart

3.

A boat sailed out of a harbour town
On a beautiful day
It carried cargo and it was bound
For a distant island across the waves

REPEAT B.

Opt. verse idea (2)

Some will talk of their honesty
Others tell of their fame
But the only promise she ever made
Is carried over the waves
And echoes her name
