

THE FROZEN HONEYMOON.

SYNOPSIS

The moment has arrived and Miriam Fitzmiller is about to defrost her husband 50 years after a near fatal accident circa 1960. Having had his life suspended and stored in a cryonic container she is about to revive him in the hope that the interrupted consummation of their marriage can at last be fulfilled. Will Ronald be able to comprehend the events that have transpired since he was put 'on ice' all those years ago? To name a few; The moon landing, Computer Technology, Social Media, The iPad, Facebook and Twitter. Miriam has been busy promoting this miraculous awakening. The waiting world is holding their breath and news media all over the world are on the alert and about to find out. The passing years may have altered Miriam's appearance but not her burning passion. And, at the very least, if Ronald doesn't co-operate Miriam does have a plan "B" to put into effect that will still make her a decent buck.

SETTING.

A floor in a large warehouse building in the year 2015. A sign establishes we are in 'The Fitzmiller Cryogenic Storage Co.' The very cold room has numbers on wall cabinets filed flat and shut and bathed in a soft blue icy light.

PRODUCTION NOTES.

Some of the props and staging suggested can be minimized in consideration of budget available. For example: the electronic sign that splutters on and off may simply be a banner with graphics. (and so on).

- N.B. All musical suggestions are public domain*.
- * Various renditions of Willie and the Hand Jive include usable tracks and dance instruction (if needed) and can be found on You Tube.