

The Babble Poems

(1) BABBLE

Hullo nonsense

what's the difference

why take it so seriously

much too much much

after all such

how is well continuously

go get grumbles, trips and stumbles over bundled ever so's

it can only spells baloney

when is only picking No's

Aye. Why? Then. Oops!

and all that

strangle poor old

alphabet

Those assembled now resemble photographs of it must end other's plenty loose is empty what is old while new pretends actual and positively strike a match to make amends can't be done while wonder wanders up and down goes 'round the bend

Aye? Why? Then. Oh !

squash and flatten
